Laurie Collins Joins Mizuni as Vice President of State Solutions

Addison, Texas (August 24, 2009) – Mizuni, Inc., a leader in data-driven decision-making solutions for pK-12 Education, is proud to announce that Laurie Collins has joined Mizuni as Vice President of State Solutions. By combining Laurie's leadership and Mizuni's proven track record of success, Mizuni will extend its innovative data management solutions to meet the needs of states across the country.

Ignacio Ybarra, President of Mizuni, states, "We are thrilled to welcome Laurie Collins to her new role at Mizuni. Laurie is highly respected in the education field and is an outstanding addition to the team during this exciting time of growth for Mizuni. Laurie's leadership, strategic thinking and extensive experience at all levels of education will help us take our solutions to the next level."

Laurie most recently served as the Utilization Director for the Schools Interoperability Framework (SIF) Association, the leading national K-12 data technology standards organization. As the Utilization Director, Laurie led development and implementation of the SIF Specification working with local, state, national and international educational organizations to expand the SIF Specification into the most utilized education technology standard in the world.

Laurie Collins states, "I am excited to work with Mizuni's customers and partners to reach new levels of innovation at the state level. Mizuni's premiere technology solutions will continue to transform the way data is used in education to impact student achievement."
